Engagement: Post an Idea

Hang a poster board on the wall and invite team members to submit ideas for a variety of topics. For example, one week you could ask for ideas about how to enhance the staff meetings, another week you could ask for ideas about how to reduce the noise levels in the common areas, and another week you could ask for ideas about how to increase the number of job applicants. This is not about solving problems but about being open to new ideas.